MUSIC.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE.

A better house than on her first appearance in the part greeted Mme, Sembrich's Lucia at the new opera house last night. The cast was the same as on the former occasion. The only calling passing mention was the reappearance of Signor Campanini, whose personal popularity caused him to be received with a welcoming round of applause. The effects of his unfortunate accident were a parent at first in a perceptible limp, but as the evening wore on hescemed to forg et his pain and neted with al his wonted vigor and fervor. The chorus sang well and the orchestra, under Signor Vianesi did rather more than its share of the work, as in the second act capecially it was unucce sarily vigorous.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

Mr. Mapleson gave "Faust" last night with three characters taken by singers hitherto unknown in New-York. These were Mile. Pattini, who sang the rôle of Maryherita, Miss Josephine Yorke, who was the Siebel, and Signor Sivori, who enacted the part of Valentino. The Faust was the young American singer whom we have heard in one or more of Mr. Strakosch's many companies in the Italian disguise of Signor Perugini; the Mephistopheles was Signor Cherubini, and the Maria Mile. Valerga.

The performance was one in which there was a rather heterogeneous mixture of elements, both in respect of the spectacle and the music. Margherita was a diminutive and demure bit of humanity, Siebel was unusually yigorous in action and voice. Faust was boyishly slender and tricked up with ornaments like a girl, while Mephistopheles was gigantic in frame, hideously spectacular in dress and conduct, and preposterously profligate of voice. Goethe's Mephisio comments on the fact that devil that he is he might take the good people by the collar without danger of discovery; Signor Cherubin's Mephisio would have been clapped into a museum of curiosities had he shown himself at the Kermesse in Leipsic.

The most interesting singer of those who made their American debut was Miss Yorke. She is a native of Cincinnati, who completed her studies in Milan a dozen years ago and soon after joined Carl Rosa's English Opera Company, where, with Miss Julia Gaylord, another Ohio girl, she bore a great share of the brunt of Mr. Rosa's exceedingly vigorous, enterprising and successful campaign in London and the British provinces. See disclosed herself to a New-York public as a woman with a comely stage presence, easy manners, and a tuneful contralto voice of capital power and qual-tty. She is easily the first of Mr. Mapleson's contralto singers, and having had admirable practical schooling, she will be one of the most useful members of his company. The honors of last night's performance were hers and she won recalls with the only two airs which the score of the opera gives her-the flower song of the third act and the romance of the fourth.

which the score of the opera gives her—the flower song of the third act and the romance of the fourth.

Mile. Pattini was an amateurish Margherila, who commanded sympathy as much by the apparent daring of her performance as by its accomplishment. She is only elightly equipped for so trying a rôle and though the clear quality of her small voice received praise, the cfort which she made to get through the opera without breaking down was so evident that none of the brilliancy which Mr. Mapleson told us to expect from her was apparent. It was a plucky endeavor, made in a manner which gave rise to the belief that the singer was far from the end of her career. Signor Perugini was a very light Faust, with the merit of his singing shining chiefly in the high notes of his voice. Signor Cherubini, a heavy Mc-phisto, was so intent on being heard with all the power of his voice that he insbitually changed the vowels A and U into O. Signor Siveri, with a name that is dignified by mustcal association, turned out to be a vigorous baritone, timid in the matter of high notes, but generous in the pas of a sonerous voice on the notes within his control. His best singing was in the death-scene.

RAILWAY INTERESTS.

THE NEW-JERSEY CENTRAL LEASE.

AN ORDER ENTERED SUSTAINING THE PLAINTIFFS' OBJECTIONS. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

TRENTON, Nov. 2 .- Judge Nixon, in the United States Circuit Court, filed to-day a formal order in pursuance of his decision in the Dinsmore Rail-road case, rendered yesterday. "That all the said exceptions to said answer be sustained as well taken, and that the clerk of this court do expunge from the said answer such seandalous and impertinent matter as excepted to, with costs to be taxed.

IMPROVED BUSINESS OF THE EASTERN. POOR PROSPECTS OF THE COMPLETION OF THE LEASE OF THE BOSTON AND MAINE.

Boston, Nov. 2,-The Eastern Railroad has just closed its fiscal year with gross earnings of $3,600,000, the largest ever recorded, and a net income after the payment of 6 per cent on its bonds and the purchase of a large amount of new equipment, of $170,000 in each, which under the provisions of the reorganiza must go toward the extinguishment of the company's debt. The Evening Transcript says: "It is improbable debt. The Evening Transcript says: "It is improbable that the lease of the Eastern Railroad to the Boston and Maine road will be concluded, a s at present drawn. The provision for the Eastern Railroad Company's hond sinking fund is not adequate, and very likely the whole lease arrangement will go by the board, to be begun over again at some future time. Nearly all the Eastern Railroad people are now opposed to the lease in its present shape. Meanwhile the feeling in favor of merging the Eastern and the Maine Central roads is gaining ground, and this may be accomplished before any lease of the Eastern to the Boston and Maine can be consummated."

PUNISHING ROADS AND MAKING POOLS.

Assistant Commissioner Pierson is continuing the war against the railroads which have been cutting rates directly, or by paying such heavy commissions to the ticket-sellers that they can be divided with the passenger. An order has been issued, to take effect on next Monday, directing all the trunk lines and their connections not to issue tickets over the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis Railroad, nor to honor tickets issued by that road over their lines. The road placed under the ban is practically the Western line of the Chesapeake and Ohio, which is believed to be a sharea in the cuts on The cutting has been going on for some time and it principally affected the business from St. Louis to New-York. The evidence upon which Mr. Pierson hased his action, however, related to cases within the last 'two or three weeks. The penalty was enforced by the Commissioner's Office at the request of the commistee of St. Louis roads. The tekets to Kamasa City of the Chicago and Alton by way of Chicago are still "hurned to the wail," and Mr. Pierson is understood to be waiting for signs of an agreement which will prevent future irregularities before he orders the resumption of the sale of tickets over that line. Railroad men do not claim that the recent enforcements of the punishments for rate-cutting have greatly injured the business of the punished roads. It is hoped, however, that the enforcement of the pool penalty will be taken as an earnest of what may be applied to the strongest lines, should irregularities in rates continue. Many ticket brokers in Broadway say that the effectiveness of the penalties is nothing and indicate the hopes of the pool office in impressing the strong lines. and it principally affected the business from St. Louis to

EXCHANGING BONDS AND CERTIFICATES.

At a meeting of the directors of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad Company yesterday, a scheme for the exchange of the second mortgage income bonds and the scrip certificates and coupons, representing the accrued interest on them, was adopted. Ten millions of the general consolidated mortgage bonds were reserved for this purpose. It was provided in the mortgage that the bonds reserved for exchange might bear less than 6 per cent interest, and the issue, it has been assertee, was optional, both as to time and terms, with the company. According to the section of the directors of the company, the second mortgage income bonds are to be second mortgage income bonds are to be exchanged at par for general mortgage bonds bearing interest at 5 per cent, and the coupons and scrip representing the accrued interest into the same bonds at 60 cents on the dollar. On these terms the full amount of the general mortgage bonds reserved to retire the accound incomes will be taken up. The amount of this issue is $8,100,000, and the accrued interest amounts to about $3,000,000.

MISCELLANEOUS RAILROAD INTELEIGENCE. The New-York Central Railroad has arranged a schedule of reduced rates from all points on its line to New-York for persons who intend to attend the Evacua-tion Day celebration in New-York.

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—A small rate war has developed between the Cairo Short Line and the Cairo and St. Louis Narrow Gauge roads. The former road for a day or two past has been selling tickets to Cairo with a rebate of $3 25, making the actual fare $1 25. The Narsow Gauge Road to-day sold straight tickets to Cairo for $1 25, and it is said will make the straight rate $6 to Memphis and $9 to New-Orleans.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2 .- It is officially stated here to-night that the negotiations between the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company and the Southern Express Company have been concluded. The railroad has discontinued its express business, and the Southern Express Company is how conducting it.

THE DEMOCRATIC OUTLOOK GLOOMY. BOSS" M'LAUGHLIN'S CANDIDATE TO BE BURIED OUT OF SIGHT ON TUESDAY.

"Very gloomy from a Democratic stand-point," said a prominent Brooklyn Democrat yesterday when asked about the political outlook. The opinion ap-peared to be general among careful observers. Repub-licans from all parts of the city said that it would be only a question as to the majority with which Mayor Lo would be re-elected, and this was estimated at from 3,000 to 10,000. Nothing has appeared to show that the prediction in THE TRIBUNE two weeks ago that Mayor Low's second majority would be double his first-4,497-will not The Citizen's Committee had reports from all parts of the city saying that the outlook was more and more cheering. All the so-called "kickers" had come around. without persuasion, but convinced simply by the logic of events. Some of the temperance men who had been spoken of as supporters of the Democratic tickets have openly announced that they are heartly in favor of Mayor Low and will vote for him. Among them are the Rev. William C. Stiles and John N. Stearns, secretary of the National Temperance Society. Mr. Stiles, who has taken the most active part of any temperance worker in the city for months, said yesterday that he wanted all his influence to go in the direction of Mayor Low's re-election. He had been convinced of the sound ness of the views put forth by James Morton, another temperance man, heartily supporting the Mayor. Of Mayor Low, Mr. Stiles said: "His administration has been perfect in every respect, except on the Excise question. I am not at all satisfied with that, and yet, can didiy, I believe the moderate temperance men of the city have far less to hope for from Mr. Hendrix if he is elected." Thomas W. Hynes, president of the Society of St. Vin. cent De Paul, and a prominent Democrat, announced yesterday that he should support Mr. Low, as the Mayor merited the confidence of his fellow-citizens, regardless of party, for his manly, upright and faithful discharge of the trust reposed in him two years ago, and it would be unwise to make a change now.

The announcement that Samuel McLean was opposing Mr. Low proves to be unfounded, and he will journey 300 miles to vote for the Mayor.

All the efforts of the Democrats to secure the support of prominent Republicans for "Boss" McLaughlin's candidate have come to naught, save in the case of Police Justice Garrett Bergen. The reason for his action is not for to seek, as he is the tenant of a house owned by Hendrix, to seek, as he is the tenant of a house owned by Hendrix, and is his next-door neighbor. But the well-known Democrats active in the support of Mayor Low are to be numbered by the hundred, and each one represents many voters similarly inclined.

As Hugh McLaughlin's candidate has no views on manicipal government to give the public, except to cry "Me too," to Mayor Low's policy, it is not surprising that he has found no time to reply to questions addressed to him by the Civil Service Reform Association a week ago—the questions relating to his policy in regard to the Civil Service, if by any chance he should be elected. As his chances of election are so small us to be invisible, he probably does not deem it worth while to pay any attention to the subject—not even to copy Mayor Low's unterances in regard to it. In a recent speech Hendrix said he hoped to be buried in South Brooklyn. One of his friends said yesterday in regard to this that on Tuesday next he would be "buried all over the city." It was remarked as a significant fact that in his only speech in the present campaign, Thomas Kinsella, of The Brooklyn Eagle, made not the slightest reference to Rendrix, allhough he dilated upon national topics.

The Citizens' Campaign Committee has opened headseila, of The Brooklyn Espie, hade not the significant reference to Hendrix, although he dilated upon national topics.

The Citizens' Campaign Committee has opened headquarters or Mayor Low in the Eastern District at No. 124 Fourth-st. All the preparations have been made for effectively manning the poils on election day. Many ballots have already been distributed. No chances will be taken in regard to Democratic tricks or ballot-stuffing for the "Hoas's" candidate.

The arrangements were completed yesterday for the final meetings of the most horly contested campaign ever known in Brooklyn, which will be held this evening. The principal ones will be in the Rink, where Mr. Beecher, Mayor Law, Carl Schurz, and General Tracy will spoak; in Music Hall, in Latimer Hall, No. 290 Court-st.; in Turn Hall, in Sumpier-st., and in the Sighteenth Ward Wigwam in Bushwick-ave.

One of the Democratic campaign speakers having made some statements which his friends believe foully asperse John C. NcGuire, a prominent Democratic supporter of Mayor Low, they have called a meeting for tenight in Everett Hall to condemn the attacks made upon him.

The prospect for the election of the Republican County ticket is exceedingly good. Democratic leaders admit that their candidate for Supervisor-at-Large, John B. Meyenborg, is already defeated.

EFFICIENT PARK MANAGEMENT. REPORMS IN THE DEPARTMENT-ABUSES EGOTED

OUT-THE PARKS IN GOOD CONDITION.

Brooklyn politicians who have endeavored to find capital against Mayor Low by bringing forward matters connected with park management have made a grave misesiculation. It is evident to all who visit the parks that their condition has been greatly improved during the past year, although the annual appropriation for their maintenance was the same as in former years. But there is an inside history to the change in park management which has never been published. Mayor Low ts never said much about it, being unwilling to hurt the feelings of one of his neighbors, whom he felt compelled remove. President Kendall, of the existing commission, refused to talk on the subject when approached by a reporter of THE TRIBUNE yesterday. The following facts, however, have been obtained on the highest authority:

Soon after Mr. Low took office he was neged to cooperate in precuring the passage of an act of the Legislature extending for three years the term of office of Park Commissioner Stranshan, which was about expir-Many complaints had been made of the park administration, but as Mr. Stranaban had been at the head of the commission ever since Prospect Park was created the Mayor was unwilling to act hastily, and proposed to have Mr. Stranahau remain in office another year, so as to allow a fair time to learn the merits of the case. Mr. Stranaban refused to accede to this proposition and de-clared that he would " fight " unless the Mayor yielded to his wishes. Under the circumstances it was impossible for the Mayor to do otherwise than appoint a successor to Mr. Stranahan when that gentleman's term of office expired. The gentleman appointed, William B. Kendall, is one of the most cultivated citizens of Brooklyn, and with him are associated, as Commissioners, such men as John Gibb, a well-known merchant, J. Rogers Maxwell, D. H. Houghtaling and George H. Fisher. The moment the new Commissioners came into office it was evident that the accounts of the Department were in great disorder. fueredible as it may seem, there had been absolutely no account-books kept in the Departement (except a memorandum of revenue from such sources as bouthire, etc., in the parks), from December 31, 1879, to June 17, 1882, when the change of administration of curred. The stubs in the check-book showed that the details of what vouchers corresponded to checks drawn and to what account charge should be made had never been filled out. In some instances the names of the persons to whom checks were drawn were not given and no receipts whatever could be found. In others the dates were omitted. Several cheeks for thousands of dollars were recovered where not even a record of their amounts had been kept. There was not a book, nor even a memorandum, in which the drafts were recorded. And the only way in which the new Commissioners were able to learn the amount of each belonging to the Department when they came into possession was to go around to the different banks and politely solicit information as to how much each had on deposit to the credit of this account. With the exception of a lead-pencil memorandum of amounts received from the sale of the East Side lands, and the unimportant matter of revenue already referred to, there was not a single record, of either funds or property, to enable the new Commissioners to know what their possessions and responsibilities were. Mr. Stranshau, when appealed to, showed an earnest disposition to add the Commissioners, but even he was not able to give them needed information, and referred them to Mr. Quevelo, who had been secretary to the Commission. But Mr. Quevedo refused to combinantest saything, not even replying to a courteous letter containing two or three quantions. had been kept. There was not a book, nor even a mem-

Mr. Quevedo refused to communicate saything, not even replying to a courteous letter containing two or three questions.

The Commissioners requested the Controller to detail suitable persons to examine the affair of the Department, and william A. Brown, Chief Accountant of the Roard of Audit, and T. A. Drake were assigned to the task. They found matters in such dire confusion that it was nearly six months before they were able to report, but they then brought to light the "distressing fact" of a deficiency of $10,604 42 in the secretary's accountant of the Roard of Addit, and that the Controller. But this does not alter the glaring truth that it took six months for two expert accountants simply to find out the condition of the Park Department nor the equally undeniable truth that it ought not to have taken six minutes. Probably the voters of Brooklyn will prefer not to ri-k such loose methods again. Doubtless Mr. Hendrix would reinstate Mr. Stransham, if he could, and that genteman is doing all in his power to elect the young man. As filiustrating the application of "pusiness principles" to the Park Department, if may be well to quote a sentence from the report of the Democratic accountant, who was appointed by a Democratic Controller. He says: "The present Commissioners have had new books opened from the date of the transfer, June 17, 1882, which I may justly say are being admirably kept."

Mayor Low's opponents have been asserting that Prospect Park has become a pleasure-ground for tramps and blackmallers where it is unsafe for women and children to visit. This will be startling a large proportion of ladies and children who visit the park every pleasant day, and who had supposed from the evidence of their own senses that this beautiful resort had never been so orderly and so well patrolled before. Those who make this false charge not only censure Mayor Lor for reducing the park police force, but affirm that the new Commission, of which he is a member exofficio, has spent several thousands of the working force they would have been liable to fine and imprisonment. On the other hand, if they had diverted a dollar of the amount given them to expend for salaries and wages to the erection of buildings, or any other purpose, they would have been guilty of a misdemeanor. Furthermore, Mayor Low's Park Commission has not discharged eighteen policemen. It has discharged eleven—five, after trial, for insubordination; and six (whose ages ranged from fifty-eight to sixty-eight), after surgical examination, for physical disability. In place of these, all footment four mounted policemen have been appointed, who, for patrolling the roads of the park, are found to be far more efficient.

A STIRRING MEETING IN MUSIC HALL. SPEECHES BY MR. LOW, DR. CUYLER, GENERAL WOODFORD AND GTHERS.

Another popular demonstration for Mayor Low last night filled Music Hall, Brooklyn, while a large overflow meeting was held outside. There was a brilliant display of fireworks. In the hall ex-Lieutenant-Governor Woodford, the Mayor, the Rev. Theodore L. Cayler, Robert Payne, A. W. Tenney and others spoke. It was an appreciative and enthusiastic audience, and quick to catch the points thrown out by the speakers, as when Governor Woodford remarked that the voters of Brooklyn had decided that the time had come when pelitics should be put down and citizenship should be put up in municipal affairs. As Mayor Low entered the hall, a deafening éheer, or series of cheers, burst from the audience; all rose, and while men waved their hats the ladies waved their handkerchiefs. Then came a vigorous triple cheer and a "tiger." This was repeated as the Mayor came forward to speak, and as he left the hall Some of the best known temperance men of Brooklyn were scated on the platform.

When Mr. Low, speaking of his opponent's remark that he "wanted some party to be responsible for him," and asked: "If the Democratic party is to be responsible, who is to be responsible for the party !" several in the audience shouted, "Boss McLaughin!" This caused a laugh, and the Mayor added: "It is the strangest thing cheef. about this campaign that wherever I have asked the question I have always heard the same answer"; and again the people laughed.

After Albert Daggett, candidate for Senator, had spoken, Dr. Cayler spoke. He was received with hearty applause. In opening he said: "I address you as a ctitzen, and of no mean city, one which will never be mean enough to turn out one of her own boys for a comparative stranger." This met with a hearty reception. Dr. Cuyler referred to Mayor Low as parative stranger." This met with a hearty reception. Dr. Cuyler referred to Mayor Low as "one who had dared to do right, to rise above the trammels of party, to offend personal friends, for the public good." To the temperance people he spoke earnessly, warning them that the whole tenor of their circulars to voters was "Strike down Mayor Low." Mr. Leigh, their candidate, had charged Mayor Low with what he could not justly be held responsible for. "I would say to those mistaken men," said Dr. Cuylér, "that if you put in Hendrix, you will gain a loss." He closed with a strong appeal to the people to sustain Mayor Low for the sake of the young men.

Mr. Tenney said he was a Republican, and not ashamed to show his political colors, but that he prized the citizen above the Republican, the country before the party.

The out-ide meeting was addressed by General William DeLacy, chairman, Albert Dagnett, D. W. Wilkes, candidate for Supervisor, J. H. Messenzer and George F. Elliott. The cheers could be heard for blocks away. Bessides speaking at the Music Hall meeting, Mr. Low attended a German Citizens' meeting in Germania Hall, at Montrose-ave, and Leonard-st. Sigiemand Kautman was the first speaker. Mayor Low was greeted with the most hearty appliance and rouning cheers. His speech was enthusiastically received. The Mayor also addressed a meeting under the auspless of the Young Republican Club, in Styles's Hall, at Bedford-avo, and Fukon-st, a meeting in Temperance Hall, No. 194 Concardst, another in Irving Hall, at Gates-ava and Irvins place; an Eastern District meeting in the church at South Third and Fourth-sts; and the Republican meeting in Zeonerale meeting in the church at South Third and Fourth-sts; and the Republican meeting in Accounted and Scholes ats, last evening, three cheers were given for Mayor Low with more heartiness than for Hendrix.

HURRAHING FOR "SAM" RANDALL. A HENDELY MEETING DISAPPOINTED IN THE AD-VERTISED ATTRACTIONS.

The mass meeting held at the Brooklyn Academy of Music last night, to put some life into J. C. Hen-drix's canvass for Mayor, was comparatively successul in point of numbers. Hockets sent up in rapid scossion and the vigorous exertious of a bu arge crowd of people to the Academy and furnished an excuse for what was called an "overflow meeting." But, compared with the Low meeting on Wednesday, there was a marked contrast—unfavorable to the Hendrix party-in the character of the audience and in its enthusiasm. The audience was turbulent. After Augustus Van Wyck had called the meeting to order and presented van vyca value of a chairman, cries of "Order" "Ran-dell," "Hendrix," drowned the low voice with which the presiding officer made his remarks. Judge J. P. Johnson, of New-Jersey, spoke some words for "Boss" McLaughita's candidate, but many more for the New-Jersey candidate for Governor and in praise of Samuel J. Randall. Like a feast in sight of a hungry man, the J. Handall. Like a feast in sight of a hingry man, he references to Mr. Handall only excited the crowd to renewed shouts for his appearance. Advertised to appear, a large part of the anthence had been drawn to the Academy by his name, but they went away disappointed and without any explanation of his absence being made beyond the statement by W. C. De Witt that "he was not in the building." In fact, candid observers thought that the demonstration which attended the entrance on the stage late in the evening of Hendrix was due in great part to the thea that many persons had that the new-corner was Mr. Randall.

stage late in the case that many persons had that the newcomer was Mr. Randall.

After the speaker from New-Jersey Mr. DeWitt appealed to the partisan spirit of the Democracy and read a letter from W. A. Roebing hostile to Mayor Low.

"Boss" McLaughlin's candidate for Mayor then made a speech in which he discouraged partisan "heelers" by promising to be independent of all parties if he were ciceted. After Dr. J. C. Hutchinson had delivered an address that was frequently interrupted by cross for "Randall," James W. Ridgway, candidate for DistrictAttorney, speke. He said that if any name must be cut on the Democratic theket to elect Hendrix he hoped his own name would be cut. He also remarked that before his nomination Hendrix was "comparatively unknown to the people of Brooklyn." This was loadly applanded.
Letters of regret were read from Mr. Hoadly, of Onio, and Governor Waller, of Connectiout, two of the "stars" whose brilliancy was advertised to draw a crowd. After the meeting a straggling line of mer and boys, with two or three transparences, strolled by the Academy as a torch-light procession.

TAMMANY DENOUNCES THE GOVERNOR.

THE QUARREL BETWEEN THE DEMOCRATIC PAC-TIONS INCREASING IN BUITERNESS.

The publication yesterday of Governor Cleveland's letter to John Kelly, attacking Senator Grady and practically demanding that he should not be returned to the State Senate, was the principal topic of conversation among Democrats. This letter was received, it appears, just before the recent visit of Daniel Manning to the city and while the negotiations were pending for a union. The l'ammany leaders assert that Mr. Thompson, of the County Democracy, was made aware of the Governor's wishes, through Mr. Manning, and heknew also about the Governor's letter to Mr. Kelly; hence the refusal to consent to Grady's nomination and the preference for "Tim" Campbell, a man of no education or ability and with the most unsavory record.

There was great indignation expressed yesterday by Senator Grady, John B. Haskin, Police Justice Duffy, John Rolly and other Tammany leaders at the course pursued by the Governor and "Boss" Manning. Mr. Kelly makes no secret of his belief that the course of the Governor has stirred up so much discord and so demoralized the party as to threaten Democratic defeat. John B. Haskin said that the Governor "was foo, enough to ape the antics of Luctus Robinson, and like him would go into obscurity at the end of his present term." Police Justico Duffy said that the Governor "as "a man with no political wisdom—a man who could not be trusted to lead the party—a man who obeys the orders of Boss Manning, a selfish, narrow—minded political manipulator." The Tammany men said that they would hold the Governor and Mr. Manning responsible for any disaster that may come this year upon the party.

Hubert O. Thompson and his County Democracy followers said that the Governor had a perfect right to express his opinion in regard to Mr. Grady's liness to be a State Sonator, and Mr. kelly's anger about it only showed that he was seek ag a pretext to divide the party.

"Tammany Hall will nover get in another Domocratic State Convention," said a former chief magistrate of the city, "if the State goes Democratic this year."

"Why?" he was asked.

"Because its course in precipitating a quarrel with the B. Haskin said that the Governor " was foot enough to

"Why!" he was asked.

"Because its course in precipitating a quarrel with the Governor, and Mr. Kelly's public defence of the course Senator Grady took last spring at Albany, show that it cannot be called a Democratic organization. It will not elect more than five Aldermen, and I doubt if it secures a single representative in the Senate or Assembly. That will prove its weakness. Besides, we shall be able, at the proper time, to prove its treachery."

ALBANY, Nov. 2. The E.

ALBANY, Nov. 2 .- The Evening Journal publishes an interview with Governor Cleveland, in which he acknowledges the authorship of a letter published in New-York expressing a desire for Senator Grady's retirement. The Governor says the letter was addressed to John Kelly and that it conveyed his desire-a desire, he believes, he had a perfect right to express in the matter, as Mr. Grady has neglected no opportunity to erippie his administration. The Governor says that his recent interview with a World correspondent was miscenstrued, and that he only denied having been it New-York City to conserve weather. spire against Mr. Grady.

PROSPECTS IN THE CITY AND STATE.

THE COOPER INSTITUTE MEETING-REPORTS FROM MANY COUNTIES.

The Republican mass-meeting at the Cooper Institute to-night will be largely attended, judging from the inquiries in regard to it at the State Committee rooms yesterday. Ex-Governor Cornell will preside and Willliver addresses.

State Committee rooms yesterday. He said that the Republicans would elect the Senator in the Oneida District and gain two Assemblymen. He thought the outlook for the success of the State ticket extremely promising. A letter received from Oswego stated that Republicans were working harmoniously there and would elect two members of the Assembly as well as the Senator. From Chautanqua word came that "the Democrats are on the run." A careful canvass of many of the counties of the State shows that the Republicans will poil a larger vote than in 1881, when they carried the State by a good majority. This result is made from a canvass, however, based on the supposition that all Republicans who have stated their purpose to vote the ticket will do so. The members of the State Committee assert that there is no doubt of carrying the State if the Republicans come out and vote. The Legislature is regarded as certainly Republican. Word was received in the State Committee rooms from several places in Queens and Suffolk counties to the effect that the election of James Otis to the Senato is assured. Ex-District Attorney Downing, who was removed by the Governor on charges of malfeasance and malversation in office, is making his canvass for the Senato by bitter attacks on the Governor. He demands a "vindication." Many Democrats have endeavored to get Mr. Downing to withdraw on the ground that they cannot vote for him, as it would be practically rebuking the Governor for doing his duty. Mr. Otis is making a strong cauvass, and his well-known integrity, ability and fairness commend him both to Democrats and Republicans. A letter received from Oswego stated that Republicans

A RALLY IN THE VIIITH DISTRICT.

SPEECHES BY GENERALS M'COOK, TREMAIN AND SHEEDAN, AND OTHERS.

A mass meeting of the citizens of the VIIIth senate District was held at Chickering Hall last night to ratify the nomination of Frederick S. Gibbs for State Sen-ator, General Anson G. McCook presided. Among those on the platform, besides the speakers, were Sheridan Shook, Pohoe Justice Morgan, Police Justice Gardner, Clarence H. Meade, Jeremiah Pangboro, Andrew J. Campbell, Isaac Dayton, Colonel John Marshall and Alderman Walte General McCook briefly reviewed the history of the Re-publican party and justified its claim to the continued confidence of the people. He urged the election of Mr. Gibbs; first, because it was a good time for everybody who claims to be a Republican to vote the Republican ticket; second, because Mr. Gibbs's nomination was the result of primaries which were free and open to all Re-

General H. C. Tremain said that it was due to Mr. Gibbs to say that he was not responsible for the unfortunate methods that two years ago rendered the election of a Republican Senator from that district impracticable. The Democrats had nominated for Senator in the Eighth District a man whose record in the State Senate was such that he did not merit the vote of any honest working man or disinterested citizen who favored the rights of all of us against the privileges of the few. He had obstructed investigation by the Senate Committee against the privileges of the rew. He has obstructed investigation by the Senate Committee of which he was a member as to the methods of gambling in the necessaries of life. He had voted without good reason against acquiring information as to what public men and lexislators were the recipients of valumble favors from wealthy corporations interested in legislation. No Jeffersonian Democrat could consistently vote for the reelection of Senator Browning.

Mr. Gibbs in half a dozen sentences acknowledged the compliment paid bim and promised, if elected, to prove worthy of the trust reposed in him.

Gen. George A. Sheridan, in the course of a telling sneech that abounded in humorous ancedotes which kept the andience in constant laughter, said that the Republican party was capable of winning whenever it wanted to and it wanted to whenever it was subsided with the party management. It was no surve of pride to the Republican party that if was not afraid to rebuke its party managers when they stood in need of it.

Colonel S. W. Carter, who spoke of himself as a "reconstructed rebel," said he had come out of the War with only one plank in his platform: that was to have no prejudices. They were had things anylow and a whipped people could not afford to have any. He was a Republican because he bilieved that the Pepublican philosophy was the broadest and best for the country.

COUNTY DEMOCRACY RATIFICATIONS,

A MASS MEETING AT COOPER UNION-ME, ECCLE-SINE ON TEMPERANCE,

The New-York County Democracy held a meeting to ratify the Democratic State and United Democratic County nominations last night at Cooper Union. A band in the half played several National and local airs. On the platform were John E. Develin, ex-Mayor Cooper, John Reilly, Maurice B. Flynn, Commissioner Thompson, Commissioner Mitchell, ex-Senator Ecclesine, ex-Senator Fitzgernid and others. Mr. Develin presided and resolutions were adopted approving the Democratic State and County tickets, and Governor Cleveland's administration.

The opening address was delivered in a hesitating manner, evoking little applause, by Joseph Pulitzer. Ex. Senator Fitzgerald, the nominee from the IXth District, repeated his familiar speech on the abolition of convict labor. Ex-Senator Ecclesine warmed repeated his familiar speech on the acontrol of convict labor. Ex-Senator Ecclesine warmed the audience up slightly by referring to Governor Butler and the meeting in Fancuil Hall that Mr. Ecclesine will address on Monday night. His reference to the Governor of New-York was less enthusiastically received. In mentioning the temperence views of Mr. Maynard, he said that Delaware County catertained peculiar views on the temperance question, which he was not prepared to say were wholly croneous. Without telling what the views were he hastened to assure his audience that "Mr. Maynard is no Prohibitionist; but granting that he is, any Democrat would be willing to take four parts of whiskey to one of water." [Applanes.] Mr. Ecclesine referred slightlingly to the "Reform ticket of Mr. O'Brien," and as he sat down the band played "I'll meet you when the sun goos down."

Mr. Cooper introduced John Rellly, who was given a round of cheers. He spoke of his probable success on Tuesday in spite of the "renegrade ticket," which he said would not poll above 10,000 votes. He predicted for himself a plurality of 30,000 votes. He predicted for himself a plurality of 30,000 votes. After he had spoken, Mr. Reilly, Commissioner Thompson and Mr. Cooper sat together on the stage and laughed and chatted during the remarks of t wo or three other speakers.

PROSPECTS IN THE XIXTH DISTRICT.

A prominent Republican in the XIXth Assembly District, alliading to the candidacy of Colonel Dow Skettle, the regular Republican nominee, said. yesterday: "An active personal canvass, dissatsfaction and disaffection among the Democrats and thoroughly united action among the Republicans, all combine to increase his chances of success. His "indersement" by the Independent Domocracy is only one straw to show how the wind blows. W. H. Bellamy, the candidate for Senator, is making a quiet but therough canvass, and, by these well posted in political matters, his prospects are considered good. Joseph Wigger, the can-didate for Alderman, has, with his personal popularity and the active efforts of his friends, a much better chance of success than was anticipated. It looks as if the XIXth is to be redecimed a few years earlier than we expected."

MICHAEL C. MURPHY'S WAR RECORD.

Statements have recently been published deaying that Michael C. Murphy, Democratic candidate for cenator in the Vth District, had been dismissed from the army for cowardice, and stating that while he raised a flag of truce at the battle of North Anna River in Virginia for the purpose of recovering his wounded, and was dismissed for this, he was afterward reinstated and henorably discharged.

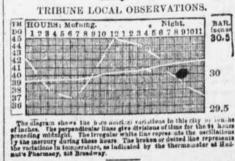

The records show that Lieutenant Colonel M. C. Murphy, 170th New-York Volunteers, was dishort dismissed from the service by Major General Meade in 1864 for presenting a flag of truce to the enemy without the authority of his superiors. The order of the authority of his superiors. The order of hismissal was approved by Lieutenant-General Frant and by Secretary Stanton, and it carried with it as a part of the punishment and disgrace a disqualification from holding any office of profit or trust in the service of the United States. In 1874, eront or trust in the service of the United States. In 1874, en years afterward, so much of the sentence as disqualled Colonel Murphy from hobiting office was remitted by he Secretary of War, and the Governor of New-York and vionel Murphy were officially informed of this mitigation of the sentence. He was not "reinstated" nor did a receive an "honorable" discharge from the Army.

DEATH OF CHRISTIAN HERTER.

Christian Herter, who for many years was the head of the well-known firm of furniture dealers and art decorators. Herter Brothers & Co., died last evening at his home, No. 36 West Fifty-eighth-st. Mr. Herter was born in Stuttgart forty-three years ago. He studied art and design in the Ecole des Beaux Arts, in Paris, where he was a pupil of Gallon in artistic designing, and after graduation he came to this city. For years he was the artiatic member of the famous firm of which his elder brother, Gustav, now living in Stuttgart, was the founder. About eighteen months ago Mr. Herter retired from active connection with the firm, but remained a silent partner in the nection with the firm, but remained silent partner in the business. He did much not only to establish the reputation of Herter Brothers & Co., but also to raise the standard of taste in architecture and interior household decoration throughout the country. Mr. Herter was a man of broad culture and fine abilities, besides having exceptional artistic talents. His death was caused by general tuberculosis. He leaves a wife and two sons. The funeral will take place on Monday at Mr. Herter's house.

HOW THE UNION TREATS STRIKING PRINTERS. From The New York World, Nov. 1.

Over 200 compositors met last evening for the purpose of classifying the status of the 700 printers who joined the New-York Typographical Union during the recent strike. The credentials and past records of the recent additions to the union were considered and when the record was had the name of the compositor was struck from the list.

An exchange speaks of a man committing saided and "leaving a wife and fifteen collidren," and adds: "No cause is known for this act." We should say that was cause enough. Eight children, when they all want new shoes at one time, are enough to drive a man to suicide.—[Norristown Herald.
